

October Let's Talk Month Session

Statewide training notes on:

Developing a Unified Message for October Let's Talk Month

MN ENABL grantees do something “Different” incorporate these messages into your October Community Organizing!!

Top Messages developed by Groups

Be a responsible parent by supporting your values with care, honesty and respect

Responsible parents:

Share your values with care, honesty and respect

Parents! Act early!

Connect, support, and provide accurate information to your children about your family values and sexuality

“Show kids you care by sharing your values on Sex” or “ Show kids you care by sharing your values”

Let's talk today about tomorrow; Equipping you with skills to make positive life choices” (this group added a graphic)

Group Messages

- Support your values in a respectful, caring and honest way
- Be honest, respectful and responsible with your values
- Support your values by being caring, responsible, and honest
- Parents are responsible to show honesty, care and respect to support their youth's values
- Parents must begin early in their child's life to teach about sexuality and their values associated with it
- Having correct information is crucial in talking with you child
- Act at home and impact your community
- Connect with your kids, provide them information about sex and sexuality
- Do all you can to help the person you are trying to talk to when they don't always get the message change the way you give it.
- Be open – listen – talk – communicate your values
- Talk + Listen x Values = open communication

October Let's Talk Month

*Statewide training notes on:
Developing a Unified Message*

Group Messages – continued

- To talk and listen about values is open communication
- Open communication of values leads to talking and listening
- Listen and talk to communicate values
- Communicating values about sexuality to increase connectedness between parent and child
- Care enough about your kids to communicate your values about sexuality and abstinence
- Increase family connectedness by communicating your values
- Youth will make healthy choices based on communicating values from parents, teachers and caregivers
- Create a connectedness with your children and communicate good values and choices that teach responsibility and sexual responsibility
- Equipping youth today with values and life choices
- The life choice today is to equip your child with your values
- Let's talk today about your tomorrow (Parents, talk to your children about Healthy choices)
- Life's choices needs to be equipped with values
- Equipping Families with tools for tomorrow